

The reason why I have chosen this photo from page 69 is because McLuhan idea of how new media changes our senses. McLuhan's point is that different media alter how we use our senses, with sight being the most influential, especially in the context of media. Followed by hearing, touch, smell and taste