Hello and welcome. My name is Jonas Reitz, and I am a Professor in the Mathematics Department here at City Tech. I've been working here full-time since 2006. I live in Queens with my wife and two daughters, who are awesome.

I love math, and this class is (Differential Equations) is one of my favorites! I love the way that the principles of Calculus are used to model so many different things in the real-world.

If you're interested to know more about my research, classes, and other work at City Tech, you can check out my Portfolio on the OpenLab.
