

Archive / Library Reflections

- Interference Archive -

Nagisa Maruyama
December 6, 2016

We visited the Interference Archive which is located on Gowanus, Brooklyn. They have many materials such as books, newspapers, articles, and fliers. The class met with Mike Clemow and we conversed about the podcast. He told us the difference between making a podcast and radio. For creating podcasts, it has discussion topics and includes the conclusion. On the other hand, radio has not main topics or goals.

These two photos that is related with residences. The left one is a flyer about rent strikes in Bronx and Brooklyn. The right one is also a flyer about people against rent increases. Both flyers try to band people together. It shows how severe these problems were.

Questions

- The rent has continued to rise in New York City. How much is the rent difference between now and the specific time when the flyer was created.
- Which races did rent strikes and was against rent increases at that time.