

The Department of Hospitality Management

Where Can Technology Take You?

Who We Are

The mission of the hospitality management department of New York City College of Technology is to provide students with a hospitality career education that integrates applied management practices and theory with liberal arts and sciences.

Degrees in Hospitality Management

- Associate in Applied Science in Hospitality Management
- Bachelor of Technology in Hospitality Management

Areas of Focus for Bachelor of Technology

- Hotel and Resort Management
- Culinary Arts
- Pastry Arts
- Travel and Tourism
- Food and Beverage Management
- Career and Technology Teacher Education

Hospitality and tourism represent the largest international industry of the 21st century and the vibrant core of the economy of New York City. For over sixty years our graduates have lead successful careers throughout New York City and beyond. They can be found in all areas of the hospitality industry.

The Department of Hospitality Management

The Hospitality Management Department invites you to explore for yourself the possibility of first-rate practical training combined with theoretical and liberal arts education – at an affordable cost – in the world's most dynamic city. The office for The Hospitality Department is located in Namm 220. For more information call 718-260-5630 or visit us at

<http://www.citytech.cuny.edu/academics/deptsites/hospitality/index.shtml>

Other Opportunities

The hospitality department encourages new students to

- Meet their advisors and get a formal advisement session
- Join the “NY City Tech, Hospitality Management” FaceBook page
- Join a club or attend club events

There are several First Year Learning Community programs in process in the department

Clubs- The Hospitality Department offers seven clubs to enhance and add value to formal education. Joining clubs builds teamwork, management and communication skills plus it helps build your resume. Some of the clubs are

- The Food and Wine Club
- Spoons Across America
- The American Culinary Federation, Cooks in the Market
- The Hospitality Garden Club
- The Anna Nurse Culinary Workshop Series
- Aspiring Hotel Leaders
- The Ambassadors Club

Study Abroad- earn credits while studying away from campus

The Thomas Ahrens International Programs

- The Paris Exchange Summer Study Program

The department, in agreement with Université d’Evry~Val d’Essonne, provides a rich and varied learning and living opportunity for qualified students to earn six elective credits in international tourism and traditions of the French table.

The Department of Hospitality Management

- The International Work Program

Selected students spend the summer months working as interns at resorts, hotels and restaurants in the United States and Western Europe.

The Walt Disney World College Program

The hospitality management department is a designated recruitment site for the internationally respected work/study program presented by Disney. Selected students earn 12 college credits through a balanced learning, living and earning environment in Orlando, Florida, supported by online coursework.