

A Clockwork Orange trivia:

The “Singin’ in the Rain” song, which is not in the novel, was suggested by actor Malcolm McDowell when director Kubrick asked him to think about something that made him happy (to use during a brutal home invasion scene). Here is the original song:

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=gAl6hhsDNxc>

The character of Alex is now iconic. There are toys and cosplay directions about him.

David Prowse, who plays Julian, the home healthcare assistant was later cast as Darth Vader (always in costume) in the first three Star Wars films.

The original movie poster, left, was soon replaced with a version that omitted the woman's image...