We decided to build the stage with triscuits and stud walls due to the fact that we were looking for a solution with the small amount of time that was given for this problem. Our group decided to make the triscuits, staircases and stud walls to save time when assembling them and make load in time easier for the crew. Our original idea was to use open-faced platforms but it was pointed out that there would multiple bolts and crew members would going under the platforms and load in would be complicated. With the triscuits, it would be easier to make with 6 groups of two, load in with carrying the triscuits with those groups and assemble the 25 triscuits that were made. For the logo, we decided to paint the logo instead of using a vinyl sticker. We thought it was a good learning experience for our props and paint crew members to learn how to mix colors and splash the colors on the logo and have days to practice and learn how to get good at it for when the actual day to come, our paint team would be ready to do it.
