Story Summary

Eba and Rogue are two sisters who have taken refuge in Rogue's room as an attempt to hide from Beta, their father who is in an incapacitated state. Beta tries calling out to his little girls wanting them to come outside to be with him. Rogue is afraid of Beta's current state and Eba takes a peek from the door to see Beta take a swig from his canteen. Beta catches Eba looking at him, and retreats back into the room. Eba turns to see Rogue still scared and decides to call their older brother, Terrakor, to come home. Time passes and Terrakor arrives to find Beta still staggering around and tries to appeal to him but gets attacked instead. Eba peaks again after her brother came home and watched Beta grab her brother by his neck and promptly closes the door. Rogue tries to drown out the noise by covering her ears and appears to be screaming, but all Eba hears is silence. More time passes and the two girls emerge from the room to find Alpha, their mother, home standing over Beta in another room who appears to have calmed down. Eba turns to see Terrakor holding his face in pain, one hand grabbing his left eye. Terrakor sees Eba and lowers his hand, revealing a chemical burn/scar on his left eye.
