Find a book, government document, or newspaper article that could help you answer your question.MLA Citation for Book, Government Document, or new article:

News article:

Why did you select this source? How does it address all or part of your research question?

"Meet me at the plaza" was a good article because it explained the history and purpose of the zoning text. But also it did point out some of the negative/ lack of regulation. Designer before 1975 lthe zoning code offered an exchange of one square foot of vacant space at the base of a building for 10 square feet of bonus floor area to rent or sell. But there little to no regulation on what happens within that space.

ZoLa is a good website that allows you to found out information about the site and it's restriction. I have used this website in my design class to find specific information about the site of the project.

Describe the process you used to find this source including any keywords and the search engine or tool you used to search.

For the news article I searched New York State Newspapers (Gale) from the library database. From Gale i did an advance search of Zuccotti park, proposal and community.

What other sources or further information would you need to answer your question? Where would you look for them?

Other source that can help answer my question is looking at interviews or survey question the community and how they feel about the park. That would answer my last part of the question if the park is successful. As well from comparing it to other parks in the city. What number does the Zuccotti park rank under.
