Hi Anthony,

Thank you for sending along your design, we appreciate the time and effort.
Unfortunately, it is not a fit with what we are looking for at this time, so we have decided not to move forward with this internship. Thank you again!

Best,
Kaitlyn

Hi Anthony,

Thank you for your interest in our graphic design intern position. Due to the volume of applicants we've had for Fall, we have already filled the position and are unfortunately unable to offer you an internship at this time. We will keep your resume on file for future opportunities.

Best of luck,

JAVIER BENCOMO

Hi Anthony!!

Hope all is well!!! I'm pleased to inform you that you've been accepted into the internship program, here at CUNY TV! You'll start the week of Sept 2nd. Just let me know what days and times you want to come in. Pick a 4 hour time slot Mon-Fri (that week Monday is a holiday fyi). Congratulations!! Tinabeth

because she does not speak the language , she is second generation and its something that she works on the book 12:37

13:51 I have always lived in NYC, This is were I was born and raised. I have lived in the bronx, Brooklyn and now Manhattan. That is something that informs my work even in my dance ~~off~~ series that takes place in Los Angeles , all ~~off~~ the characters for the most part grew up in New York or major cities like Chicago. My upcoming two series both take place in New York as well and I think NYC for me it just feels like home. and I read a lot of book that are clearly are not written by new Yorkers that takes place in new York and there are so many things that I'm like that would not happen. I wanted to show the reality living here, because there are many of us who call New York City Home ,and have almost be like a character in the book as well 14:45

14:58 I really hope that my success "I guess". ~~Its~~ weird to think about, but I hope what I have done and what I'm doing pays a ways for other latina authors, ~~latinax~~ authors. I try to talk to the ones who I know and provide mentorship, answer questions and Make myself available in that way. Even just with encouragement, I feel like it mean something when I won the Rita , its hard even to feel like wow I'm just the second one, that's shameful. So I hope that my books leads people to read other books by latin x authors because, let's face I can't write so fast. There are so many authors out there writing wonderful stories and I hope that reading my books will lead to some of those. They just have to read my authors acknowledgments in the back to find some of their names like four ~~chicas~~ 16:03

16:23 so there are some authors that I mentor and I also teach and do workshops. I taught some on crafts, branding and one workshop called graphic design for authors , that is what I did before doing before I started writing

"Immigrants (We Get the Job Done)" is a song from "Hamilton." Choreographer Sergio Trujillo ("Ain't Too Proud"), who came to America undocumented from Colombia, is a living example. Hope you enjoy my interview with him on CUNY-TV's "All the Moving Parts."
