

Today's Class: In class pinup review of case study choices and warm up drawings for scavenger hunt. Introduction to scavenger hunt assignment and finalization of case study choices. In class Revit work and desk critiques

Agenda & Attendance

- Today's agenda outlined on the board or reviewed on OpenLab

Activity 1 (Pinup Review of case study choices)

- Comments on percentage of students who posted on blackboard by deadline
- Review and discuss options – help students to identify appropriate case study choices
- Check grades (complete/incomplete) for upload to blackboard and pinup – everyone must participate.
- Create Student Groups –
 - Identify no more than 5 or 6 case study selections and setup student working groups
 - Consider White Elephant activity for group assignment
 - Students will share research, present together but will create their own drawing files
 - Group presentations will be a shared grade, drawings sets are individual.

Activity 2 (Pinup & Grading of Scavenger Hunt Warmup Project)

- Student led discussion of drawings - self-critique and comment
- Student led grading of assignments (A/B/C/D/F) +/-

-Break-

Activity 3 (Introduction to Scavenger Hunt Assembly Assignment)

- Look for assembly whose construction is to be investigated
- Like the isometric discussion from day 1- what clues are there to its assembly?
- Select three assembly stories to develop
- Review how to research an assembly to add information to the study.
- Review needed Revit skills (create new views, set scale, orient to view isometric)
- Student Desk Crits -
- Final graded pinup of scavenger hunt is due on Day 4
- Assignment 2B– First draft of scavenger hunt studies- uploaded to blackboard and pinup of 3 sheets

Assignment Review

- [#2B.1] First draft - Scavenger hunt studies – 3 sheets minimum – upload to blackboard - print for pinup
 - Warmup sheets (plans, elevations & sections) are submitted as part of the PDF only – no pinup
 - Scavenger hunt sheets are to be part of the same PDF with warm up sheets
 - Only the Scavenger hunt sheets are to be printed for in class pinup discussion and grading
- [#1A.1] – Case study assignment – reminder of second pinup discussion (day to be set by professor)
- Board Notes Posting on OpenLab (student volunteer)
