To whom it may concern,

It gives me pleasure to write this letter of recommendation for Mr. Abelardo Rodriguez. He graduated from the Associates Degree Nursing program at New York City College of Technology and has matriculated into the Baccalaureate Nursing program at the school. I was his Medical/Surgical clinical instructor during the Spring of 2013 at Maimonides Medical Center.

Mr. Rodriguez was the top student in my clinical group. His passion towards the nursing profession was expressed each week. He provided safe care to all patients that were assigned to him. He did not hesitate to volunteer taking on more responsibility such as caring for more patients at a time. He asked relevant questions during the clinical that showed me that he was utilizing his critical thinking skills. He was able to integrate academic knowledge with clinical skills. During the clinical he was able to administer subcutaneous and intramuscular injections. He administered medications via peg and NG tube. He performed nursing care for those patients that were complete care. He did all this with enthusiasm. An additional quality that makes Mr. Rodriguez a great choice for your facility is his ability to work as a team member. He gets along well with his colleagues and is able to contribute to the overall goal of the health care team. He also has great work ethics. He was the first to arrive at the clinical site and provided excellent customer service to the patients.

Please do not hesitate to employ Mr. Rodriguez. He has shown me that he is dedicated to the nursing profession and is dedicated to lifelong learning. I envision him contributing significantly to the nursing profession. It is a benefit to your facility to hire him. If you have any additional questions please call me at 347-451-7397. Thank you.

Sincerely,
