T- Shirt Project

My tee shirt is a reflection of my life. Sometimes it is necessary to look back over your past, to determine what helped to developed you into who you are today. Starting with the back of my tee shirt which features my first and middle name, Ashley Mone'. I think the name Ashley, is an over populated name. But I have learned to live with it, although I had no choice. Mone' is French and reminds me of my favorite place in Paris and fashion styling..

When I look back over my life, I think of some of what brought me to be who I am today. I am black, women, who believe in being beautiful, inside and out which also defines me. Since young women, I realized my innovative magic, and love for a sense of style, that sets me apart.

I believe by improving my intelligence, I will continue to be innovate and influential in the fashion industry, and for that I am unapologetic. I truly feel there is always room for improvement, whether it be educational,, a physical modification or socially.

On the front of my tee shirt, there is lots or glitter because it is reflective of my girly side. The Channel broach represents for my favorite designer. Also the sparkle lips/lipstick represents my smile. People say I am always smiling, it comes natural for me. I am always wearing heels. A stylish pair of heels gives a women that famine touch and the flower represents me blooming into a young fashion adult student.
