

when racing against faith
and life knock you down
you pick yourself back up and keep running to win

no matter what wall
get's in your way of life, keep breaking
through until you see
light