

A black electric guitar with a red pickguard and a bridge pickup, lying on a green lawn with a house in the background.

life is like learning how to play a guitar.

you take it one beat at a
time.