

The Thought and Fear of Extraterrestrial Life in Space Lighting Presentation

By: Justin Ynfante

Research Question

Question: Are we ready for any sort of contact with extraterrestrial life?

Answer: To cut it short, we are not ready at the current moment since we have no idea what real extraterrestrial life can do, let alone do we even know that they exist. However, we will never know how any sort of contact will go.

Summary

Extraterrestrial life is the idea that life outside of Earth may exist or did not originate from Earth. This can range from simple germs to full intelligent beings and maybe even full civilizations that can be far advanced than current humanity. What my project goes on about is different topics of how people tackle extraterrestrial life.

1. The aspect on how life can even form.
2. Seeing how aliens act or talk in movies.
3. Picturing what an alien is.
4. There may be possible extraterrestrial life from far away.
5. How contact may have an impact on Earth.

These are the main topics I touched when I was finding research on the matter and there are quiet interesting stuff to find and even more come up to this day.

Ending

This project will hopefully have people think about what extraterrestrial life really is and how we don't know everything that goes on. What if all of this does end up being real and could we ever have some sort of contact with them? That is a question that should come out of this project.

There is more to the picture than just what we think about aliens or what we see what they do in tv shows, songs, movies and any other forms of media. Who knows how they talk, or what their technology is. We don't know and that's what I want to try and get across.