

South Sudan

By: Carlos Contreras

Where is South
Sudan?

It's located in East-Central Africa.

When did South
Sudan gain its independence?

South Sudan
gained its independence
from Sudan on July 9th, 2011.

What is the capital of South Sudan?

The capital of South Sudan is currently known as Juba.

I say “currently” because there have been talks of moving the capital to the city of Ramciel.

What do the colors
of the South
Sudanese flag mean?

The colors of the flag are
to represent:

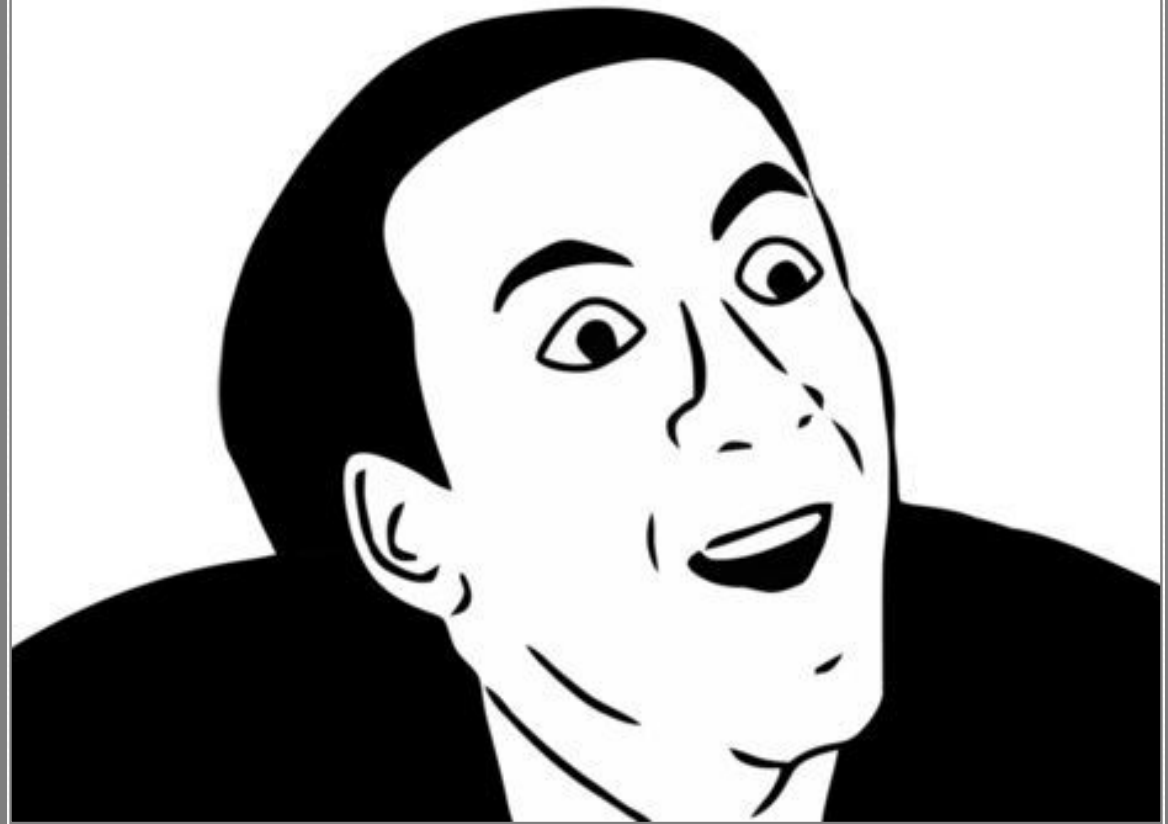

- Black: Black African skin.
- Red: Blood that was shed by the liberation struggle martyrs.
- Green: The country's natural resources and verdant land.
- White: Peace attained after many years of the liberation struggle.
- Blue: Waters of the Nile River, a source of life for the country.
- Yellow: The unity of the states making up South Sudan.

Who lives in South Sudan?

People.

YOU DON'T SAY?

Ethnic groups
in South Sudan consist of Dinka, Nuer,
Zande, Bari, Shilluk, and Anywa.

How does the traditional clothing of South Sudan
look?

There's no real name for what they have on, but this is what is worn during festivals.

What do the people
of South Sudan do
to past the time?

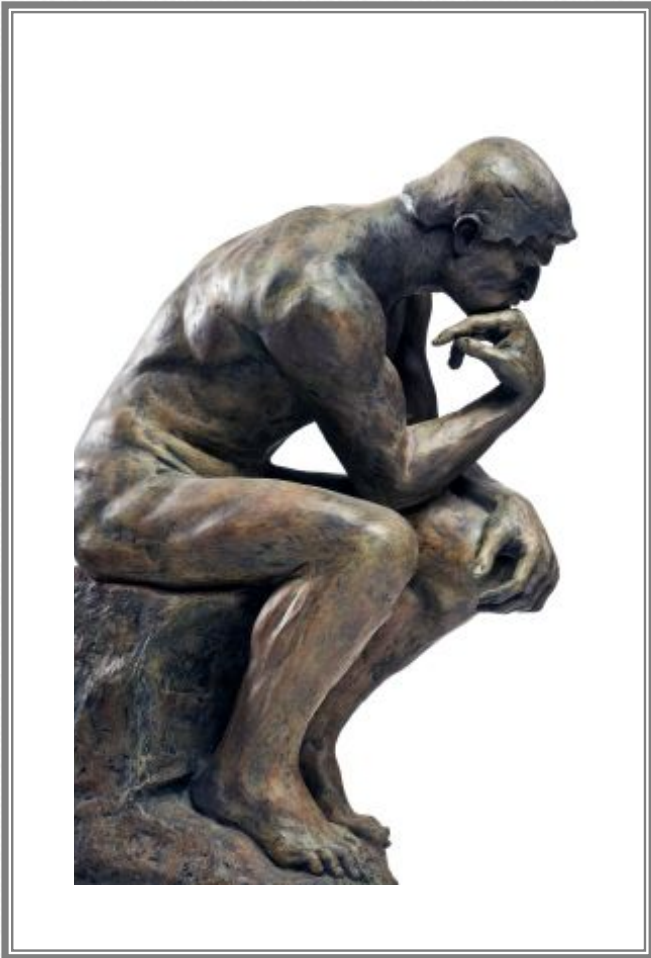

There are two things they do:

Farm

Wrestle

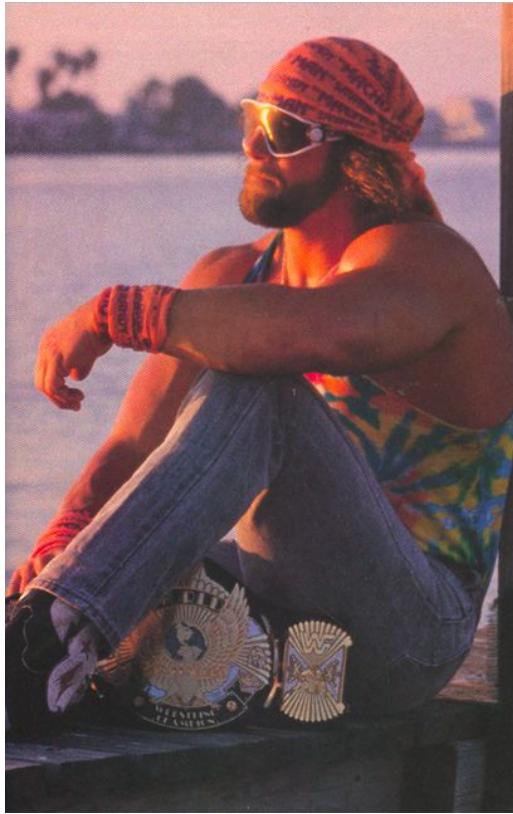

What do South Sudanese
people like to eat?

Goat stew

It's chopped up goat parts - basically every bit you can imagine - floating in a watery grey or red liquid. My guess is that it's primarily water, with some chopped up onion, chili powder and salt. It's not intensely flavored.

What do the South
Sudanese people consider their
place of residence?

93% of the so-called privately owned houses in South Sudan are made of grass-thatched or mud huts, popularly known as tukuls.

Who's the face that runs the place?

Salva Kiir Mayardit

July 9th, 2011 - Now

Now that you're all practically South Sudanese.

1015 31st St NW #300, Washington, DC 20007