The summary of Calvin Huang

First Impressions

I was first inspired by colors to be an artist. The sights that I see on every journey. This was my thought that I want to take part on the Graphic Design world.

Typographic Design Works

My Strong Suit:
I am Good at Typography Design

This was a poster done in class of Type 3 presenting an idea to the Brooklyn Historical Society. The purpose proven to the poster and the Society itself is to show tourists that there's a new spot that's very popular to everyone. It's worth the photo!

Typographic Design Works continued:

This is a sample done in Typography in location. A structure of the Brooklyn Bridge buildings in words. This was inspired by a class walk in the Brooklyn Bridge and I noticed the building structure. Afterwards, I made a design in type out of this. My type instructor was impressed by this.

Graphic Design in to Photography

My Strong Suit:
Photography representation

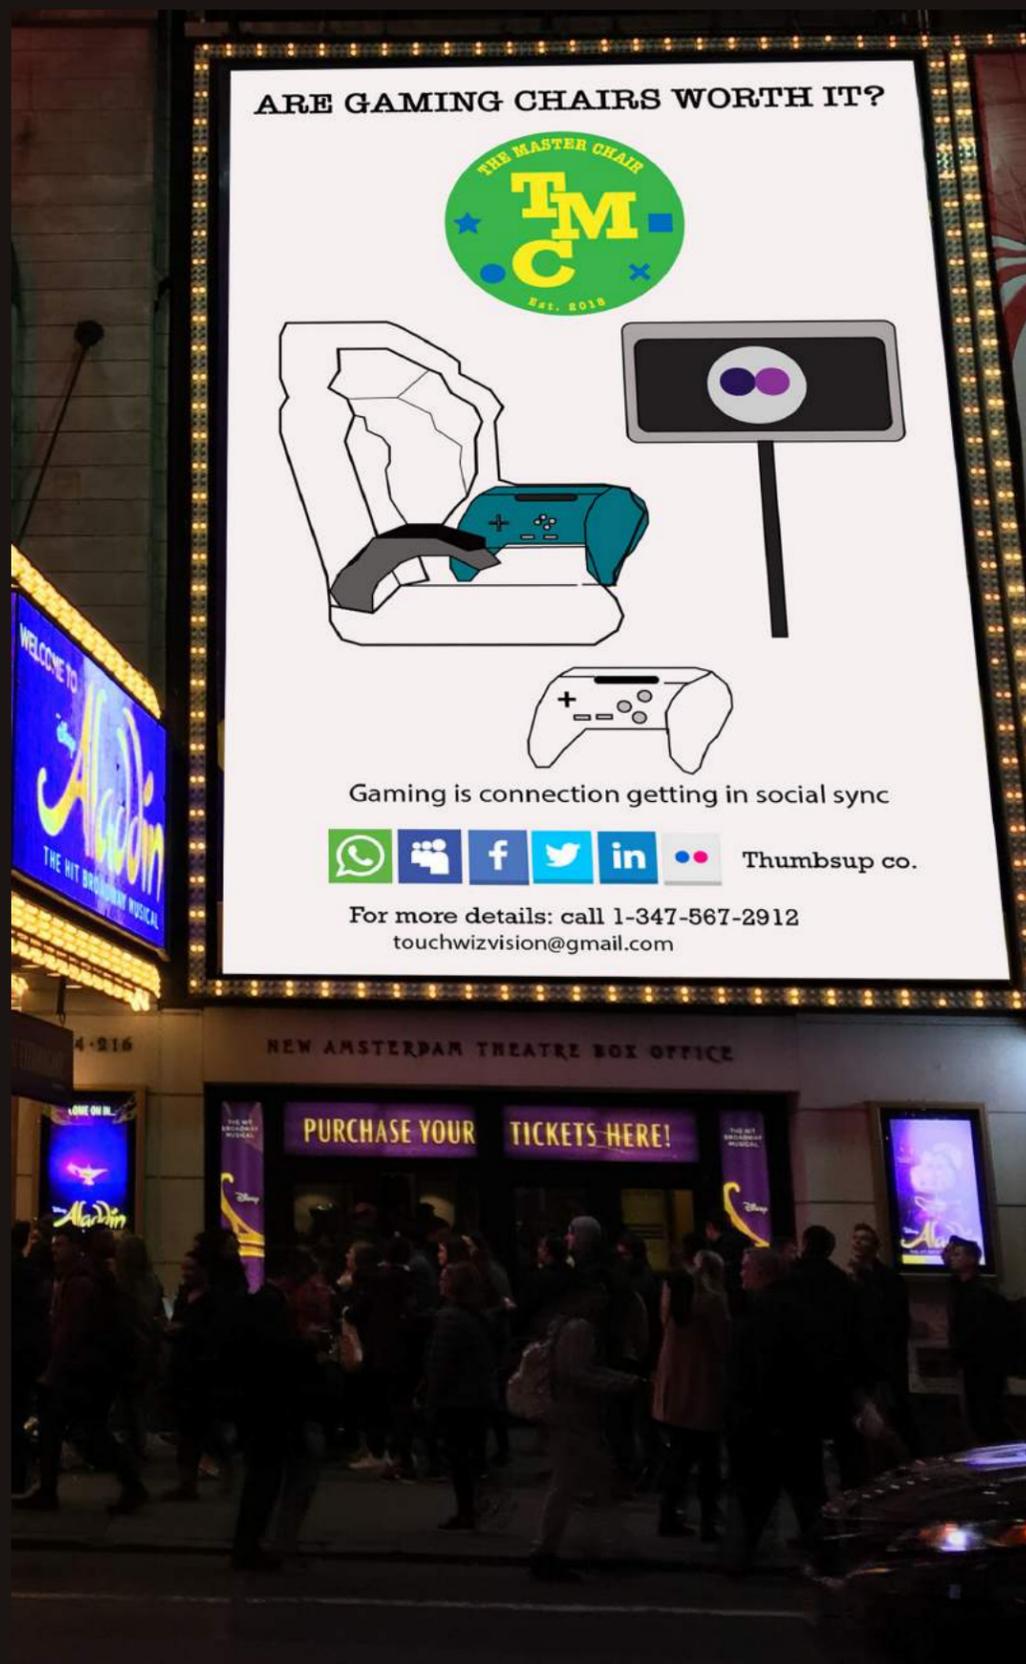

This work of art that I designed involves a camera, a figure and speech to the project. I started enjoying photography but, led me to think that graphic arts does relate to the course.

This project shows a different approach to Graphic Design in 3D shapes. Shapes are extruded and bevelled to see that the figure itself has ways in rotation. This image was first done in Graphic Design and presented to a new image.

The photograph taken was from the Vessel located by the Javits Center. This image shows a comparison to the shape giving a demonstration to shapes relating to photography.

Advertisements

My Strong Suit:

I am Good at Billboard Design

During my third year of City Tech, I was introduced to Billboard Design. At first, I had a peice of my past work from my other classes put in a folder. I thought to put everything together, I would have found a way to present it. This was an advertiseing project to present your idea to the world: Gaming in the big screen.

Main Concept: Au Bon Pain recommendation

This was done as someone who would want to find a place to snack in. The ad will catch one's attention to what they should get or the best item on the spot.

What I'm currently doing?

I'm currently working on a billboard design relating to one another. This was done in Communication Design that shares a relationship note to avoid road rage as a statement. The two in comparison about road rage advises one to relieve the anger as this will never solve the solution to avoid pain.
