Merriam-Webster.com definition:
a pet peeve as a frequent subject of complaint.

Start being a more positive person

People who are always so negative are just not fun people to be around. Who just look on the dark side and kill the life of the party. You could be having a great day, and some negative Nelly might come and try to kill your fun. So honestly, I just try to avoid those people, and definitely, don't be one of those people.
