Exams and quizzes: This course requires students to pass a departmental uniform final exam with a grade of 70 or better. If this minimum grade is not achieved then the student fails the course and cannot advance in the Law and Paralegal Studies program until she/he repeats the course successfully, then the previous grade of "F" will be replaced with the new grade. (See attached department policy, "Repeating Courses.") There will be a midterm exam and a final exam, both of which will be cumulative. Quizzes will be announced and may be unannounced. There will be no make-up exams or quizzes without prior arrangement. In calculating course grades, I generally drop each student's lowest quiz grade; however, if you miss a quiz, that counts as your "lowest grade" that will be "dropped," and I will average all of your other quiz grades. For exams missed for medical reasons, see attached college policy, "Accessibility."

Homework and other assignments: Students will complete a variety of homework and other assignments, some of which are listed in the Class Schedule in this syllabus, and others will be announced during the semester. Details on each assignment will be provided. Each written assignment should be submitted in the manner specified, such as paper copy, or email to me, or posting on our course OpenLab site. Except as noted, assignments are due at or before the start of class. If you submit an assignment late without advance permission, the assignment may be penalized or be rejected. Grammar and spelling always count—proofread everything! Retain copies of all graded work; if you believe there was a grading error, or you appeal a grade, you will be required to support your claim with such evidence.

Court observation: Each student will observe an actual New York State Court proceeding and provide oral and written analyses of the experience. Details will be provided later in the semester.

"Law in Culture" Review: Each student will read, watch, or listen to a cultural medium of her/his choosing, approved by me, that relates to law, and post a thoughtful analysis and review on OpenLab. Details to be provided.

Participation and professionalism:

- Participation. "Participation" includes completing readings and assignments before class, and discussing them intelligently during class; being present, attentive and engaged in all class discussions and activities; taking written notes; listening and responding respectfully to everyone; and having all necessary materials. You will be expected participate voluntarily, and you will also be called on during class to participate. All of these factors will be considered in your grade.
- *Professionalism.*¹ A unique demand on Legal Studies students involves managing the fluid boundary between being a student and a working professional. Every interaction with faculty, staff, employers, and alumni involves developing your personal brand, reputation, and professionalism. Therefore, the Law and Paralegal Studies Department expects students to act with the highest standards of integrity, good judgment, and professionalism at all times, and will consider the following in your final grades for all our courses:
 - being punctual, present, prepared and engaged
 - submitting professional-quality work (such as proofreading and neatness)
 - responsibility for your learning and progress (such as seeking assistance from tutors and faculty)
 - interacting appropriately with peers, instructors, college personnel, and outside visitors
 - respecting diversity among all individuals

- collaborating/participating actively in team environments
- learning, including giving and receiving constructive feedback
- behaving in an ethical manner (college/academic as well as outside/interpersonal settings).

When communicating via the Internet, please keep in mind the following "Netiquette" rules:

- Writing should be formal, using applicable professional/technical language.
- Writing should be clear and precise.
- Writing should avoid emoticons and "texting" or short-hand language/phrases.
- Writing should explain and justify any opinions.
- Writing should stay on topic; irrelevant tangents are confusing, so make sure every comment you post stays within the scope of the question/discussion topic.
- Writing which includes the intellectual property of others requires you to cite your sources, e.g. websites, books, blogs, journal articles, etc.

Class sessions: Except as announced in advance, all classes will be conducted in person, in Namm Hall room N-418. Attendance will be taken during each class. Occasionally, we may need to meet remotely on Zoom instead of on campus. Zoom sessions will be announced in advance. If you do not have access to Zoom, please let me know so we can discuss other options for participating in online class sessions.

Individual meetings: Each student will meet with me individually, in person or on Zoom, early in the semester, to welcome you; address any questions relating to our course, department, or the college; and anything else you'd like to discuss. We can meet as many additional times as you'd like!

OpenLab and Blackboard: All students are required to join and learn to use our course OpenLab (OL) and Blackboard (BB) sites. They will be used extensively for assessments, assignments, and materials and information that may not be provided in class. You are responsible for all information on OL and BB.

Technology: Students are expected to have basic competencies in (a) word processing, including Microsoft (MS) Word and Adobe (pdf); (b) City Tech email; and (c) the Internet. Students will be introduced to OL and BB. Per college policy, please use only your City Tech account to email me. Allow 24 hours for a response, and longer if you email me on weekends or when classes are not in session. CUNY provides MS Office 365 for Education (including MS Word, Powerpoint, Excel and other programs) to City Tech students. See <https://www.citytech.cuny.edu/virtual/technology-services-student.aspx>.

CELL PHONES, LAPTOPS, AND OTHER ELECTRONIC DEVICES MAY NOT BE USED DURING CLASS FOR ANY PURPOSE. When class begins, silence them and put them where you cannot see them. If you believe you need a device for accessibility or other reasons, please talk to me.

See the Addendum for additional college and department policies.

Note regarding these challenging times: We live in extremely stressful circumstances. COVID-19, racial injustice, violence, and economic strains are just a few collective challenges, added to our own personal stressors. I do not want this course to be another source of unnecessary stress for you! Certainly, you should work hard, and take your education seriously. BUT if you find yourself facing challenges, in or outside school, that may affect your academic performance, please discuss it with me as early as possible so we can figure out the best way to proceed. It will all be OK!! We just need to work together. ☺

Addendum: College and Department Policies

NEW YORK CITY COLLEGE OF TECHNOLOGY POLICIES

Academic Integrity

Students are responsible for understanding and following CUNY's and New York City College of Technology's policies on academic integrity.

Students and all others who work with information, ideas, texts, images, music, inventions, and other intellectual property owe their audience and sources accuracy and honesty in using, crediting, and citing sources. As a community of intellectual and professional workers, the College recognizes its responsibility for providing instruction in information literacy and academic integrity, offering models of good practice, and responding vigilantly and appropriately to infractions of academic integrity. Accordingly, academic dishonesty is prohibited in The City University of New York and at New York City College of Technology and is punishable by penalties, including failing grades, suspension, and expulsion. The complete text of the College policy on Academic Integrity may be found in the catalog: http://www.citytech.cuny.edu/academics/docs/academic_integrity_policy.pdf.

Everyone is expected to do his/her own work and carefully cite the work of others. Plagiarism is taking another's work and using it as your own. This class will hold a ZERO tolerance policy for plagiarism. Evidence of plagiarism may result in failing a test, assignment and /or the course. Internet plagiarism includes submitting downloaded term papers or parts of term papers, paraphrasing or copying information from the internet without citing the source and "cutting and pasting" from various sources without proper attribution.

Accessibility: Reasonable Accommodations

City Tech is committed to supporting the educational goals of enrolled students with disabilities in the areas of enrollment, academic advisement, tutoring, assistive technologies and testing accommodations. If you have or think you may have a disability, you may be eligible for reasonable accommodations or academic adjustments as provided under applicable federal, state and city laws. You may also request services for temporary conditions or medical issues under certain circumstances. If you have questions about your eligibility or would like to seek accommodation services or academic adjustments, please contact the Center for Student Accessibility (CSA) at 300 Jay Street room L-237, 718 260 5143, or <http://www.citytech.cuny.edu/accessibility/>.

Students who miss a scheduled presentation or exam due to illness or medically related emergencies will be referred to the CSA. The CSA will review any documentation requested and give the student a letter to share with the relevant instructor if accommodations need to be made.

NYCCT LAW & PARALEGAL STUDIES DEPARTMENT POLICIES

Attendance

It is the conviction of the Law & Paralegal Studies Department that a student who is not in a class for any reason is not receiving the benefit of the education being provided. Missed class time includes not just absences but also late arrivals, early departures, and time outside the classroom taken by students during class meeting periods. Missed time may affect any portion of the final grade overtly allocated to participation and/or any grades awarded for activities that relate to presence in class. If you miss a class, it is your responsibility to get the notes and assignments you missed from a classmate.

Bluebook (Citation)

The Department of Law and Paralegal Studies acknowledges the variety of citation styles; however, it is the department's policy that all citations are done in the format of The Uniform System of Citation (also known as The Bluebook).

Repeating Courses

Entrance into paralegal studies courses requires CUNY proficiency in reading and writing. All students admitted without such proficiencies will be required to complete necessary remediation and to obtain proficiency before progressing into paralegal studies courses. A minimum grade of "C" in each course with the prefix LAW is required for progression within the Paralegal Studies major. Students may repeat a LAW course once if they have received a "D" or "F" grade.

Electronic Devices (including mobile phones and texting devices)

Electronic devices, including mobile phones and texting devices, must be turned off and/or silenced and put away during class. Laptop computers may be used with the permission of the professor.

Computer Lab

Do not leave your work on the hard drive in the computer lab. Print your work, save it on a flash drive and delete it from the hard drive. You are responsible for protecting your own work, in the event that two students turn in the same paper, both will receive an F. There is absolutely NO eating and drinking in the Law & Paralegal Studies Computer Lab.
