

Leroy is in class, learning about Galaxy History. His teacher is explaining the different planets and the powers of the great warriors from each planet. Leroy Wonders what it would be like to fight as a great warrior.

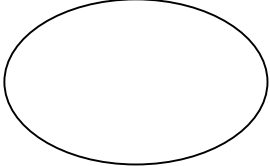

Leroy is training with some friends that are from the fire planet, in a moment of anger Leroy's power is subconsciencly exposed. Causing the ground to tremble and causing it to snow.

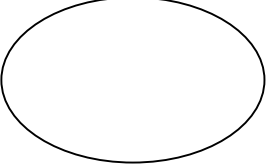

After this event, Leroy's orb is activated for the first time. This is witnessed by the love interest and the friends as well. Because of this powerful energy being released, the love interest sees potential.

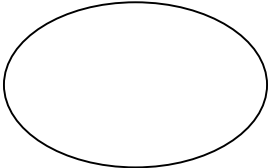

Love interest tries to convince Leroy to go the fire planet in hopes to control his power. Leroy, completely unaware of the danger, follows blindly.

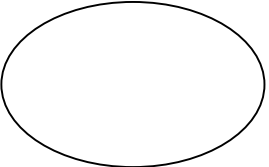

On their journey to the fire planet, they are attacked by space pirates. The love interest, acts hurt to lure Leroy to use his power. In this act, Leroy Obliterates them into nothing with his uncontrollable power.

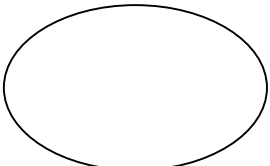

Leroy has been on the fire planet for some time now. He decides he wants to go home, but it is in this moment, love interest feeling guilty, informs him that he cannot leave the planet. While attempting to escape, Leroy is captured by the fire General.

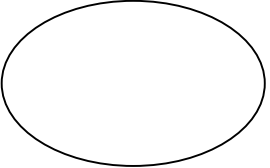

There is an alert throughout the galaxy that the fire planet is in control, putting the planets out of balance, making the fire planet the strongest. This action fuels the rest of the galaxy to unite against these common enemies.

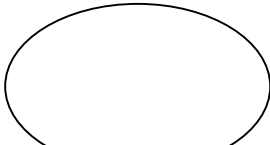

The fire king decides to test out his power and shoot a fireball the size of the sun at the earth. Damaging the earth immensely. This is now the beginning of war.

Rocketships are coming from every direction into the fire planet for an invasion. At the same moment, a projection of Leroy's mother is glowing from the orb. With this knowledge she gave him, he is able to break out of his confinement.

Everyone is engaging in combat. As he arrives at the battle field, warriors are being burned alive by the fire warriors.

Leroy Defeats the fire king, learns to control the orb in this process. In the aftermath of the war, Leroy realized he has the ability to heal
