For my first visual quote concept, my idea was exploring. My quote, “Never accept the world as it appears to be, dare to see it for what it could be” (Dr. Harold Winston, Overwatch), is about exploring and doing your own thing. My quote is a quote that wants people to see the world as a they want it to be. Here, one way it appear that someone wanted didn’t want to accept the world, and did their own thing, by exploring outer space.

For my next visual quote concept, it is a visual of the outside world. This is another example of how someone can see the world as it could be. Here, someone can see the world, literally, by exploring the world. It could be like traveling, hiking, or just a nice uite walk in nature, as it demonstrates in my postcard.

For my last visual qute concept, it is about the sea. This example can be someone going out and trying something new. Maybe planning and having a fun time at the beach with friends and family, can help people see what the world can offer. They can have a new walk on the shore, or try collecting seashells, for a change. But this example can be a first step for someone getting out of one’s comfort zone. It’s all about breaking down the walls, and taking risks.
