

Pet Peeve

Merriam - Webster.com definition - a pet peeve as a frequent subject of complaint

Line

There are social rules you must follow

Line cutting is a reflection of the rudeness that pervades society. Personally I find it offensive that you think your time is more important than mine. There are many levels of line cutters out there when there is clearly a line around the bloc; ones who pretend to not see the line; ones who pretend not to understand when told there is a line and ones who clearly just don't care.
