

Liz Limage's ePortfolio

Elizabeth (Liz) Limage is from Brooklyn, NY and started work as a Mixologist at local neighborhood bars for the past five years. She is truly passionate about providing impeccable customer service. She is successful in driving revenue through repeat clientele, for every establishment she has worked with. Liz has managed a local night club bar in the past, where it took her talent to another level in elevating her career. She has now transitioned into working at a five-star hotel in hopes of moving up the hospitality hierarchy. Now she is pursuing a BA degree in Hospitality Management to ensure she has the proper education to succeed in the hospitality industry. Liz is determined to run her own organization in the future.