Yesterday I watched the SEC tournament championship game with Alabama vs LSU. This is the 3rd meeting between both of these teams. Alabama beat ~~them~~ LSU all 3 times badly and I was expecting Alabama to win by 15 or more but LSU you came to play, the early first ~~quarter~~^{half} Alabama struggle a little bit to get their momentum. LSU quickly showed that they wasn't any push over with this freshman Cam Thomas and Trendon Watford hitting threes, and attacking the basket. Ilt Herb Jones SEC defensive player of the year build defensive momentum translating in fastbreak points for Alabama. Then the game became a stale mate then towards the end Villanova transfer Jahvon Quinerly hit some threes and boosted Alabama momentum.
