My Brand

My brand is called Fatoumata Cisse. Fatoumata Cisse is a foreign brand whose main focus is to grow and be better. Fatoumata Cisse was born in Guinea Conakry which is located in West Africa, She studied her primary education in Guinea which is a French speaking country because the country was colonized by the French. Fatoumata Cisse moved to the United States in 2011 to pursue her education and have a better life and opportunities, currently she is pursuing her Bachelor's degree in Business Technology and Fashion and hoping to be a fashion designer and an entrepreneur after college. Fatoumata Cisse is also planning to pursue her Master's degree in Paris, France.

Fatoumata Cisse's mission statement is to be able to grow professionally and personally, she is determined to focus on her goals and crush them. Fatoumata Cisse plans on being a philanthropist to give back to her community and people around the world, She would want to teach young people of what she knows to prepare them for the future and to make them be aware of all the resources and opportunities they have and can use. Fatoumata Cisse is planning on becoming a successful business woman to help herself and future family to be financially stable, she is working on getting a Bachelor's degree and taking herself out of poverty.

Fatoumata Cisse's value trust, confidence, and braveness.

Fatoumata Cisse's personal objectives are to help the needs being able to support someone and change their lives for the better. She would like to be trustworthy, she would want people to trust her and to also trust people to build up her reputation which will bring her other personal objective respect, Fatoumata doesn't like to be disrespected at all so in order for her to achieve the goal of being respected she needs to be trustworthy and honest individual. Fatoumata Cisse doesn't like to be looked down on which is why she is working on being confident and making sure her voice is heard no matter where she is at. Fatoumata Cisse's professional objectives are to graduate college and earn a good high paying job, she is currently working on finishing her Bachelors this May. Fatoumata is planning on being an entrepreneur running her own business and being successful so that she will be able to achieve her goal of becoming a philanthropist and helping the people in need.

Fatoumata Cisse's personal goals are to be financially stable, help herself out and her family, travel the world, meet new people and learn new things. She believes in order to achieve these goals she will need to work hard and wishes that once she achieved these goals to be humble and kind. Fatoumata Cisse's professional goals are to network with as many people she can. In order to achieve her goals he will need to connect with the right people. She plans on graduating with her Bachelors and Masters degree. Fatoumata Cisse wants to be a successful entrepreneur whose business will be expanding around the world and to also be able to help people in need, she would want to change at least one person's life for the good.
