My Banner Design

My goals are to be a professional designer, but I am not sure what type of design I will be because I am still deciding and trying to fix it out right now. In addition, I believe simple banner/logo design can be easier for people to remember. So, I just want to keep my design to be simple as possible. I just decided to use letters to make a design that looks like a human, and I think it will be a very cool thing. So, I use letter O (head), U (body), M (legs) L(hands), V(speak-means just show up whatever I want to do because I have nothing to lose). In addition, I add my English Niki under the banner/logo design, that means it's my banner/logo design. I make the last letter I to be a capital letter is because I want to make a balance for both sides of my name. So, it might be more interesting. Additionally, I make the main color to be black and red which I want to keep it simple, and I used the gray color to be a shadow of the design. Finally, I think it's great to do that.
