

From: ZhiFei Zhao <zhifei.zhao@mail.citytech.cuny.edu>
Subject: Revision of Technical Writing 101
Date: April 7, 2013
To: books@scriptorium.com

Dear Mr. Pringle & Ms. O'Keefe:

I am sending this email is come to my attention that after reading your book, "Technical Writing 101". The book is great and interesting. But in my opinion, I have figured out you don't totally understand the meaning of "knowledge" and there are few factors are not fully support your book. Such as, networking knowledge and computer skills. And according to David Weinberger's book "Too Big To Know", which talks about the "knowledge" means not just any network; knowledge is talking on the shape of the net, and that is internet. Also he used couple of examples to describe the factors of networking knowledge and how computer skills are important to us. So, I advise you to consider revise some parts of your book.

Thank you for taking the time out to read this email. I hope my opinion can help you open your mind to the evolving times around us.

Sincerely,

ZhiFei Zhao

ZhiFei Zhao
300 Jay Street
Brooklyn, NY 11201
Email: zhifei.zhao@mail.citytech.cuny.edu