Color: Purple

Purple combines the calm stability of blue and the fierce energy of red. The color purple means a couple of things in different Cultures. In western culture, the color purple represents royalty, wealth, and fame. In most Asian cultures it represents nobility. However, in Thailand and some parts of Europe, the color purple represents death and mourning. When it comes to the spiritual meaning of the color purple, the violet shade of the color purple is the ancient royal color and therefore a symbol of the sovereignty of Christ. Violet is also associated with repentance from sin. I chose the color purple because it's my favorite color but also because I feel like it reflects on my personality. The color purple to me feels like a warm and calm color and can be used to describe a mellow and laid back feeling. As I think of the color purple I think of the soft scent of lavender. When it comes to memories and the color purple I always think back to a birthday I faintly remember as a little kid and playing with purple balloons which I also have pictures of. Not only do I have memories with this color it is also associated with important people in my life like my best friend.
