Design Narrative

The house I design is located on 49 Vandebogart Road, Woodstock, NY. It is surrounded by trees and a little far away from the neighbor. There will be two stories house and will have six rooms. Two rooms will be living room the children and the couples. Another two rooms is for the painter and sculptor to work on their production. One room could be the reading room for the children. One room could be storage for the art work, materials or sculpture. I would like to design a hallway as a gallery as enter from the house for the art works that created by the painter. I want to combine the kitchen room and dining room together and it is open to the courtyard with a big glass door. In the summer, the family can have a barbecue party in the courtyard. I want the house is surrounded by trees and flowers that can let the painter and sculptor feel relax when they're struggling about ideas. I would like a garden that surrounded by the house or it can located in-front of the house. The garden can place swing for the kid and a set of chair for the painter and sculptor hanged out in the garden relaxing with a cup of coffee. For the second floor, there can place a big window for air flows into the building and a better views throughout the landscape. I want to design a veranda that connect to the living room, so more sunlight get into the living room. The materials I want to use for the house can be wood or brick.
