Notes after reading "How to Read like a writer" by Mike Bunn.

- I liked how the author used imagery in the first paragraph because as I am reading I can imagine in my mind how does it look.

- In the second paragraph the author trying to say that it's hard for him to focus on the reading because of the theatre noises.

- while reading he was very focused and was trying to understand everything.

- After reading he realize how important reading is to make you a good writer.

- Read like a writer means you fully focus and totally lost in the reading that's how you read like a writer.
