

Maria Mateo (Edited)

As a young visionary and entrepreneurial mind, my career goals are to open a restaurant in my home country (Dominican Republic) and a company of event planning. I'll like to be able to be known as an expert in the hospitality industry and to be an influencer that can set trends. My personal strengths are being curious and determined. As a curious person, I like trying new things and taking new challenges in my life that would serve as a lesson in my life and in the future.
