

Re: Guest talk mid-semester Spring 2015
From: Alexandra Nobel <amnobel@gmail.com>
To: Amanda Almond <AAlmond@citytech.cuny.edu>
Date: Tuesday - October 28, 2014 1:20 PM
Subject: Re: Guest talk mid-semester Spring 2015
Attachments: Mime.822

Good afternoon,

I happily accept the invitation to present and discuss issues related to health psychology in your class next semester.

Thank you for the opportunity,

Alex

--

Alexandra Nobel, MA
Doctoral Student | Clinical Psychology
Assistant to the Director of Clinical Training
University of Rhode Island

On Tue, Oct 28, 2014 at 12:24 PM, Amanda Almond <AAlmond@citytech.cuny.edu> wrote:

Good afternoon-

Would you please be so kind as to send me a "confirmatory" email stating that you will be a guest speaker in my Health Psych class? It is something that I need to provide to a committee. Thanks darlin'.

-Amanda

Amanda L. Almond, Ph.D.

Assistant Professor, Social Science Department,

New York City College of Technology, 300 Jay Street, Brooklyn, NY 11201, 718-260-5500

>>> Alexandra Nobel <amnobel@gmail.com> 10/15/2014 9:36 AM >>>

Good morning!

At the present moment I am unsure of my course schedule for the spring semester, but I am confident that with enough notice I would be able to incorporate this great opportunity into my calendar. I would be available at any point this weekend if you'd like to meet and chat about Joan's class, group tests, and this plan?? Thank you for considering me :)

Let me know,

Alex

--

Alexandra Nobel, MA
Doctoral Student | Clinical Psychology
University of Rhode Island

On Wed, Oct 15, 2014 at 9:24 AM, Amanda Almond <AAlmond@citytech.cuny.edu> wrote:

Good morning-

I am in the process of developing an interdisciplinary course in Health Psychology and Race. I plan on hosting a number of invited guest talks. Since you are in clinical health psychology, I thought that you would be an excellent guest for the topic "The Health Psychologist's Role." What are your Wednesdays going to be like in the spring? It is an evening class 6-8:30pm. Please think about it- and I hope that you are able. It would be towards the very end of the semester, or can be at a time that is most convenient for you. There is the option to do the talk either in person or via skype (but it would be nice for you to come visit my in BK)

All the best,

-Amanda

PS- we will also talk this weekend about Joan's class next Friday :) Thanks!!!!!!

Amanda L. Almond, Ph.D.

Assistant Professor, Social Science Department,

New York City College of Technology, 300 Jay Street, Brooklyn, NY 11201, 718-260-5500