Hi Peter,

I am going to resubmit the application for designation of SOC 2401 as an ID course and wanted to check if you could confirm your interest and availability to do at least one guest lecture in this course.

Ideally, your lecture would focus on how new technologies have changed societies in the 20th century. Its title "20th Century Revisited: Society and Technological Change."

Thank you,
Diana

Hi Dina,

I'd be happy to guest lecture in this course. I can write a lecture on whatever you want me to talk about.

Best,

Peter

Hi Peter,

I am preparing a proposal to designate SOC 2401: Society, Technology and Self as an interdisciplinary course. The course focuses on technologies as sites of social interaction and vehicles of social change. Given your background in the history of technologies in general and nuclear technologies in particular, it would be wonderful if you could give a guest lecture on how technologies have shaped societies since the mid-twentieth century.

Please let me know if you are interested and available to share your expertise in this class.

Thank you,
Diana
