Orphans and Widows

Tarsha had then caught eye contact and both busted out laughing. They knew how Gary felt about Tarsha.

"What's so funny?" he asked looking at both girls.

"Nothing," smiled Tarsha. "We just had a little too much to drink, that's all."

"Oh," said Gary looking around.

"Your boy Nut, just left not long ago," said Tarsha.

"I know," he responded. "I'm about to go and meet up with him now."

"I'm not dissing you or anything," she said. "But you look drained out. Real tired looking, Gary. Are you alright? Normally, you're always full of energy."

"Wow! I didn't know it was that noticeable. Yeah, I'm mad tired. I've been up for two days now trying to find some new drug locations for me and your man."

"That's cool," said Tarsha. "I need to ask you something but then again, I don't know if I should."

"Ask me," he said desperately wanting to know what it was. "You know you can ask me anything."

"And it'll stay only between us?"

"Of course!"

"That means you can't even tell Nut," she said looking into his eyes.

"That's my word, I won't tell anyone."

"Okay," began Tarsha. "Things are kind of fucked up for me right now. I need to ask you for some money. If you got it, to give to me."

"How much?" he asked.

"Like five thousand dollars," she answered. "That's all."

Gary didn't really want to part with any money, but he didn't want to look like a petty drug dealer either. Especially knowing how guys was spending big money on her. He knew if ever wanted to get a chance to make her wifey, he could not be stingy with his money. Tarsha was definitely high maintenance.

used on a project or plan is one of the challenges we face. There is always the, calls to make, laundry to fold, movies to catch up on, deadlines to meet and to live up to. There is so much pulling on us, keeping us from doing what we want it never gets done. Actually, there is something that keeps us from our goals, that is lack of focus. Very often, lack of focus is caused by fear. Lack of focus/fear means you can find a million things to do what you say you want to do. Lack of focus means if you do what you say you just don't. Success means you would move out of your comfort zone. Somehow, somewhere there is something that is frightening. The key is if you stay focused, all of those frightening little things will miraculously be taken care of. Before you would be exactly where you say you

I stay focused on the end, the details are handled.
