

PHILOSOPHY STATEMENT

Janibel Corona Lopez

I've always believed that a caring nurse, is a great nurse. Caring is at the core of nursing for me. Part of caring is making sure I am well prepared to take on the responsibilities of a nurse. This includes furthering my education and learning to accept and appreciate different cultures. Caring means to cause no harm and to treat patients fairly across all aspects of nursing.

My philosophy has always been to give the best possible care to my patients. As I move forward into my nursing career I bring these ideal with me hoping that I can provide exceptional care to those who need me.
