INDIVIDUAL STRENGTH STATEMENT

Janibel Corona Lopez

My goal for my nursing career has always been to deliver the best care I can to all of the patients I can reach. I believe that my caring nature has contributed a great deal to reaching this goal.

My passion for nursing has driven me to further my education in order to better prepare myself for the opportunities and challenges ahead. I welcome theses challenges with the understanding that, without them, I wont experiences growth.

I am also proud to be a dependable individual. Being there for those who need me is extremely rewarding. Last but not least, the ability to self reflect is a skill I practice in everything I do. This allows me to assess my actions and way of thinking. It gives me the opportunity to change behaviors and unproductive attitudes.
