

May 9th, 2019

Jason Montgomery
New York City College of Technology
300 Jay St, Brooklyn, NY 11201

Dear Jason Montgomery,

The Hunter College ACERT Steering Committee would like to thank you for your presentation at the ACERT Lunchtime Seminar, "Place-Based Pedagogy in NYC: The City as a Classroom" on 3/12/2019.

As you know, the mission of ACERT is to foster a community in which faculty use innovative pedagogy, technology, and assessment to enhance their activities as teachers and scholars, facilitating engaged learning. In collaboration with key offices, the Center integrates existing faculty and Hunter's academic community.

By presenting at an ACERT seminar event you made an important contribution to Hunter's efforts to develop and share best practices to benefit our students. We deeply appreciate your willingness to continue to develop your pedagogy and share your experiences with your colleagues. We recognize the time and effort this has required and are grateful for it.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read "Paul McPherron", is written over a light blue horizontal line.

Paul McPherron
Director, ACERT
Associate Professor, English Dept.