Hi Jason,

I have just received a book contract offer from Palgrave Macmillan/ Springer for our READ book project, "Teaching College-Level Disciplinary Literacy: Strategies and Practices in STEM and Professional Studies."

You can now start working on the Architecture chapter. You have an initial chapter outline, but that can be modified any way you see fit. You are also free to choose which course(s) you would like to include. The chapter draft is due on June 20. The length of the chapter should be around 8000 words, including notes and bibliography. It's helpful to start the chapter with literature review. In addition to discussing strategies, as in each chapter of the book, the role of disciplinary literacy and discipline-specific literacy requirements in Architecture, and how Architecture is taught currently and how it should be taught, etc. should be covered. You can show me portions of your work for comments any time before the draft's completion.

We can meet to discuss more details. In the meantime, please let me know if you have any questions.

Best,

Juanita
