Dear Commencement Volunteer Team:

Thank you for your extraordinary teamwork and effort last night to pull off the biggest commencement ceremony in City Tech's history! There were more than 1,500 students, and who knows how many guests filling Barclays Center to the upper decks last night. The celebratory energy was incredible—and you are the people who made it magical for the graduating students.

Your work in preparation and coordination, in making sure that Barclays was ready and looking great, in welcoming students, faculty, speakers, and guests and helping to make sure everyone knew where they needed to go, in keeping us all safe and secure, in providing last-minute tassels and hoods, in reading their names with clarity and pride (for over an HOUR!), as marshals lending gravitas to the ceremony, and in taking tons of photos to memorialize the night all made the evening special.

It's an honor and a privilege to work with you and a joy to come together from all areas of the college each spring to celebrate commencement. Have a great summer, and I hope you'll be back next year!

Best regards,
Kim
