Subject: Invitation to upcoming OpenLab Open "Curating a Faculty or Staff Portfolio"

Hi Jason:

I hope you're doing well. I'm writing to extend a special invitation to you to our next Open Pedagogy event, taking place on Thursday, April 4th from 4:30-6:30pm in the Faculty Commons. As part of our "curation" theme this semester, we'll be discussing faculty and staff portfolios and their use at the college and beyond. Jody and I met with Julia Jordan recently, and she highlighted the work you've done creating and sharing your Teaching Portfolio on the OpenLab, and how you advocate for presenting your work in that space. It would be really great to have your experience and perspective in the conversation on 4/4, if you're available (of course, any of your colleagues in your department or any of your networks are always most welcome!).

Thanks for your consideration, and hope to see you there!

Cheers,
Jill
