SUBJECT: Element Fighter the Game

The concept of Element Fighter idea came from my specialization in biology for my major. The board is a collaboration of ideas from Candy Land's board style and Chutes and Ladders' ladder idea depicted by the magic rainbow. The game pieces are unique as each resembles a separate element: earth as a green tree, air as a cloud, fire as a flame, and water as a water drop. Each piece was molded out of colored clay with the base of a checker piece. The dice was store bought.

The front cover of the game came from an image from google images and was colored in to look more dramatic. The back cover contains the same image, a blurb, barcode, age, players and an image of the finished product of the game. The pamphlet idea that is also included in the game box developed from concepts from several games such as Uno.

The game has been tested to ensure that it is playable and durable for multiple uses.

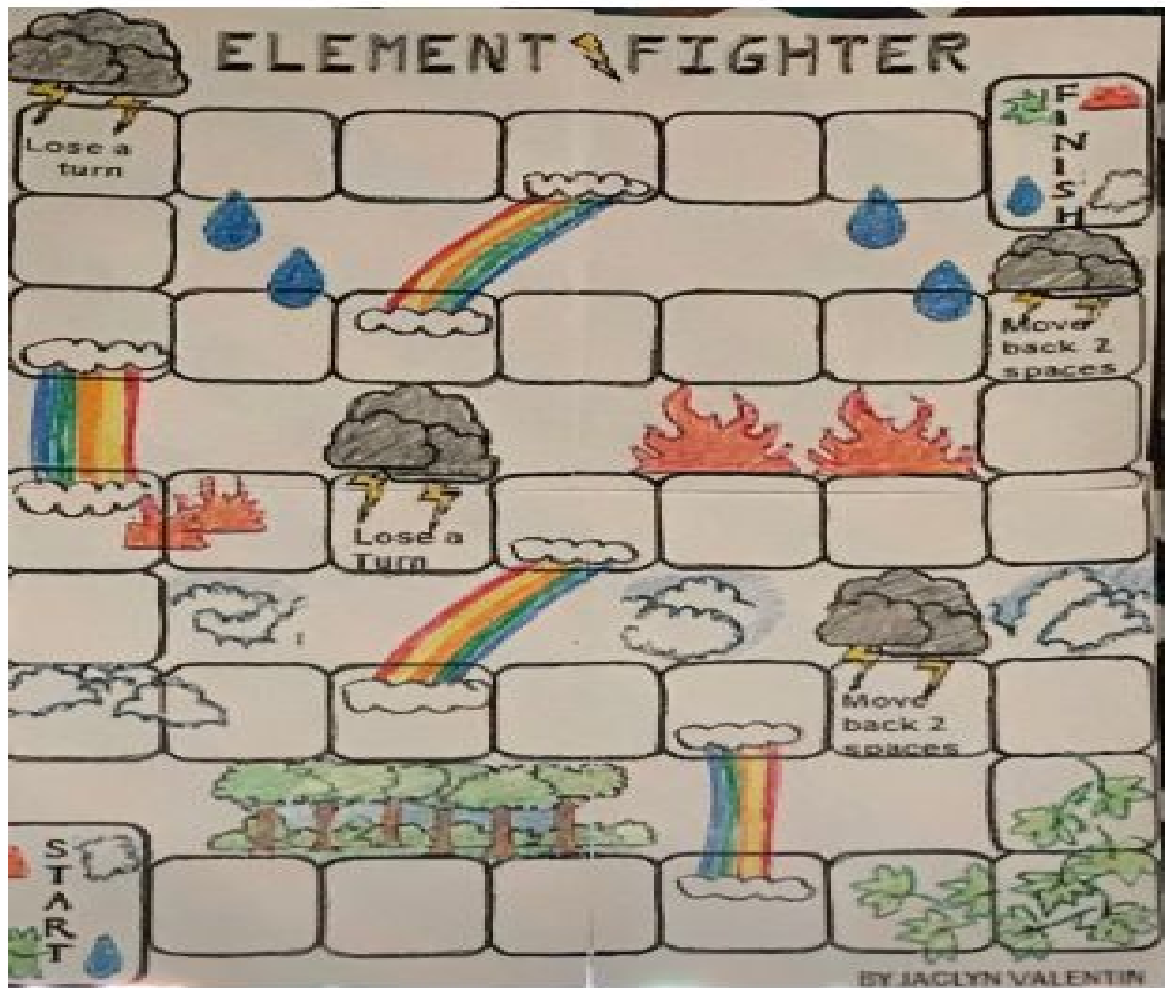

ELEMENT FIGHTER

The Game

Welcome to Element Fighter, where all four elements compete in the ultimate race to the finish line, proving who's the better element! In this world, it is up to you to demonstrate the power of your element. Roll the dice for your journey to begin. There are enchanted magic rainbows that will move you further ahead to the finish line. But be aware! There are dangerous storms that are lurking to ruin your chances of becoming the champion of Element Fighter!

AGES 8+ PLAYERS 2 - 4
