On The “Verge” of New Fashion

Verge has always been a major player in the innovation of women’s fashion of all kinds making the next logical step to tackle sub-cultures. With the rise of gothic subculture at hand, this fashion showcases that Verge understands the many needs of the modern woman and are here to accommodate these needs to our full capability. In order to celebrate the new era of goth subculture Verge has decided to hold this particular event as a way to usher in a new era of attitude and self expression in every and any way.

Verge has gone quite the distance in an effort to bring this event to a point of satisfaction for all parties involved. In order to do so we have made sure to contact the biggest names in fashion journalism such as writers for the fashion magazines, Complex, V and Vogue magazine to name a few. Verge’s hope with this event is to expose the latest trends and evolutions within fashion currently.
