Alexander Wang , is a level-headed entrepreneur who dropped out of college to pursue his dream and found success. only 15 years old, Alexander Wang put on his first fashion show at his brother's wedding. He had prepared 33 evening dresses for the event, all of which were received with great praise by the attendees. Perhaps, staging at a wedding helped him understand how fashion shows worked. After the wedding, staging at a wedding helped him understand how fashion shows worked. Alexander Wang brand is a completely family-run business. His family members occupy top positions in the company. It is not uncommon to find fashion houses being completely family-run, however, only a handful of them manage to sustain for long and attain remarkable success. The famous clothing company H&M partnered with Alexander Wang to create an exclusive line. The website was instantly bombarded with so much traffic that it crashed shortly after the collection went live. The entire collection sold out in a matter of minutes. Alexander Wang has a scintillating clientele. His clientele includes who's who in Hollywood and beyond such as Carey Mulligan, Naomi Watts, Emilia Clarke, Sienna Miller, Lady Gaga, and Emma Watson.
