 Office hours: Monday 10-11:15am; Wednesday 1-2:30pm; other times by appointment

Course description: This course addresses the theory and application of law and procedure in civil litigation with emphasis on New York State law. It focuses on the role of the paralegal in preparing for litigation, including an understanding of the court system, steps in the litigation process and their time lines, drafting legal documents, trial and post-trial topics, and an introduction to the use of the computer in litigation. Prerequisites are CUNY proficiency in reading and writing. Pre- or corequisites are LAW 1101 and ENG 1101. Three credits.

Required texts:

- Charles E. Coleman, J.D. & Gail Elizabeth Williams, J.D., Civil Practice for Paralegals in New York State, Looseleaf Law Publications, Inc., current edition ("C&W"). On reserve in the City Tech library: call # KFN 5995 .Z9 C65 2017. Also available for purchase in the City Tech bookstore and online.
- Civil Practice Law and Rules of the State of New York Plus Comprehensive Appendix of Related Statute, Looseleaf Law Publishers, Inc., current edition ("CPLR"). Each student must have a paper copy of this book in class. Available for purchase in the bookstore and online; on reserve in the City Tech library: call # KFN 5990 .A314 A22 2017.

In addition, each student must have access to a law dictionary and an English language dictionary (a "regular" dictionary), in print or online, to determine the meanings of unfamiliar terms. A popular print law dictionary is Black's; online law dictionaries include thelawdictionary.org, dictionary.law.com, and legal-dictionary.thefreedictionary.com. Online English language dictionaries include dictionary.reference.com, merriam-webster.com/dictionary.htm, and thefreedictionary.com.

Course grades will be calculated as follows (details on each category below):

Quizzes	15%
Midterm exam	20%
Final exam	25%
Court observation and report	10%
Summons and complaint	5%
Homework and other assignments	20%
Participation and professionalism (see below)	5%

Exams and quizzes: The midterm (20%) and final (25%) exams are cumulative. Quizzes (15%) will be announced and unannounced. There will be no make-up exams or quizzes without prior arrangement.

Court observation and report (10%): Each student shall observe a civil litigation proceeding in a New York civil trial court. Following the observation, each student shall (a) post a short summary on the course OpenLab website (discussed below), (b) submit a detailed memorandum describing the proceeding, and (c) give an oral presentation to the class. Deadlines are noted in the attached class schedule; further details will be provided later.

Summons and complaint (5%): Each student shall prepare a summons and complaint based on a hypothetical scenario, to commence a civil matter in a New York trial court. Deadlines are noted in the attached class schedule; further details will be provided later.

Homework and other assignments (20%): All written assignments shall be typed and double-spaced, and submitted on paper during the classes when they are due, except as instructed otherwise such as posting on OpenLab. Handwritten work will not be accepted, nor will I accept assignments by email or in my department office mailbox without advance permission.

Participation and professionalism (5%): Participation includes completing readings and assignments before class; being prepared to discuss them intelligently in class; being present, attentive and engaged in all class discussions and activities; taking handwritten notes; listening and responding respectfully to other students' points of view; responding to my questions; and having all necessary materials with you (including pen and paper and a copy of the CPLR in each class). Professionalism includes conducting yourself in a manner appropriate to the legal profession, including the quality of your work (proofreading, neatness, etc.) and taking responsibility for your own learning and progress, such as seeking assistance from our department's tutor or from me when appropriate.

Extra credit: Students may earn extra points on the midterm and final exam grades by posting responses to legal news articles on our course OpenLab site. Details on this opportunity will be provided later. This is the only extra credit opportunity; do not ask for others.

Academic Integrity: All students must abide by the NYCCT Statement on Academic Integrity (emphasis added):

Students and all others who work with information, ideas, texts, images, music, inventions, and other intellectual property owe their audience and sources accuracy and honesty in using, crediting, and citing sources. As a community of intellectual and professional workers, the College recognizes its responsibility for providing instruction in information literacy and academic integrity, offering models of good practice, and responding vigilantly and appropriately to infractions of academic integrity. Accordingly, academic dishonesty is prohibited in [CUNY] and at New York City College of Technology and is punishable by penalties, including failing grades, suspension, and expulsion.

Examples of academic dishonesty are cheating and plagiarism, including plagiarism of Internet material. For explanations and illustrations of these and other forms of academic dishonesty, see the NYCCT Academic Integrity Policy Manual and the CUNY Policy on Academic Integrity, both available on our course OpenLab site and on the college website. You are responsible for understanding and adhering to those policies.

Other general policies: Retain copies of graded work; if you believe there was an error, or if you appeal a grade, you will be required to support your claim with such evidence. Grammar and spelling count in all work—proofread! Per college policy, please email me only from your City Tech account. Allow 24 hours for a response, and longer if you email me Friday through Sunday or when classes are not in session. The college Welcome Center (Atrium 1st floor) can assist you with email and other technical issues.

OpenLab: All students are required to join, and learn to use, our course OpenLab site: <https://openlab.citytech.cuny.edu/coughlinlaw1103sp2019/>. It will be used extensively to assign and submit work, and to distribute materials and information, some of which may not be provided in class. You are responsible for all information provided through OpenLab.

Attendance: Each student is permitted no more than three absences or six late arrivals, or a combination thereof. Two late arrivals equal one absence.

Technology: Students are expected to have basic competency in: (a) word processing, including Microsoft Word, Adobe (pdf), and printing of documents; (b) use of City Tech email (see "Other general policies" above); and (c) the Internet. Students will be introduced to OpenLab, City Tech's open-source digital platform.

CELL PHONES, LAPTOPS, AND OTHER ELECTRONIC DEVICES MAY NOT BE USED DURING CLASS FOR ANY PURPOSE. When class begins, silence them and put them where you cannot see them. Or I will.

Instructor expectations: Pursuant to students' requests, the instructor shall take the follow specific steps to maximize the academic value of this course: hold review sessions before exams; make best efforts not to misplace students' work; make information regarding students' grades readily available, e.g., through OpenLab; and consider dropping students' lowest grades on quizzes and/or homework.
