Kel

I thought the presentation addressed to internship students was excellent. In fact this is a class, CHEM 2323, but I think they will benefit by your guidance.

Thanks

Peter

Hi Peter,

We can do 2:30-3:30 on Mon, Nov 25 in the Eclassroom/Rm 540.

Just to clarify – do you want me to do a similar session to what I did for your internship students or are you looking for more of a Research 101 in Chemistry?

And just for our internal documentation – which Chemistry course is this?

Thanks,

Kel

Kel,

Monday, November 25 at 2.30 pm is ideal.

Thank you.

Peter

Hi Peter,

I leave most Mondays at 3PM because I have a standing appointment in the afternoon. I could however potentially do Mon, 11/25 or Mon, 12/9 (if that's not too late in the semester). If one of those works would you want me to do something similar to the session I did with your internship students last Spring or would you like something that focuses more on the fundamentals of research/more research 101?

Thanks,

Kel

Thanks for writing. The Organic Chemistry laboratory class meets Monday afternoons 2:30 to 5. If you have any free Monday afternoon, we could arrange to meet at the library.

Let's talk.

Hi Peter,

I know you had mentioned last we spoke that you were interested in bringing your students for a library instruction session. Please let me know if you are still interested. It would be great to get something on the calendar before my schedule fills up.

Thanks,
