To whom it may concern:

This letter is in reference to Kristine Lauriello who is a student in the nursing program at New York City College of Technology. I am her clinical instructor for her second semester nursing course.

The student has had experience caring for children; adults and older adults in long term care and acute care settings. The second semester clinical experience included caring for clients on a general medical surgical and pediatric unit at Kings County Hospital Center.

She successfully meets the objectives for the course. I recommend this student for employment.

Sincerely;
