Residency Program
L. Bogle SS#*
October 23rd, 2012

To Whom It May Concern:

As a Clinical Med-surg Nursing Professor at CUNY New York City College of Technology, I have had the pleasure of knowing Lance Bogle for the fall semester of 2010 and 2011, his final semester. He has been one of my most dedicated student in the clinical area. I would like to take this opportunity to recommend Lance for a this residency/employment opportunity.

He is a very diligent and hardworking student who one can clearly see expresses his determination to learn, implement, and adapt accordingly. He is always asking questions as well as giving his insights into each patients pathophysiology. In the clinical setting, he has been nothing short of phenomenal; demonstrating his ability to incorporate what he has learned from lecture with the clinical aspect of his education. In addition, Mr. Bogle is an excellent student advocate always concerned about his patients well being. His care and passion for nursing is admirable and I am confident that this is the source of his yearning, or always wanting to do more. I am over-confident that Mr. Bogle will be a valuable asset to your nursing team and that he will continue to succeed in his nursing career wherever he may go.

It is for these reasons that I offer a high and prestigious recommendation for Mr. Bogle. His drive and abilities will truly be an asset to your program. I am confident that he will continue to progress in your residency program and beyond.

Thank you for the opportunity of correspondence.

Sincerely,
