Guidelines for the Annotated Bibliography
DUE: Draft on Monday, November 9; Final on Wednesday, November 11 (at the beginning of class!)
The annotated bibliography is worth 10% of your total course grade. Bibliographies will be graded using the grading chart included below.

- Each group selects a minimum of 5 (more than 5 is okay!) different sources of relevant information on the topic of your team research assignment, including:
  - at least 3 text-based primary sources (historical newspaper article, letter, diary, data set)
  - at least 1 image-based primary source (photograph, film/video, painting/drawing)
  - at least 1 scholarly or academic source (interprets or analyzes historic or current conditions; a secondary source)
  If you are unsure whether a source you'd like to use meets one of these criteria, please ask your professors.

- At the top of the document, write a single sentence that summarizes the topic of your team research assignment. Each student submits one annotated bibliography consisting of unique sources. Begin each annotation with the citation for each source, formatted using MLA Style. For citation help, use EasyBib.com, the MLA Handbook for Writers of Research Papers, Theses, and Dissertations (LB2369 .M53 in the Library's Reference section), or the Purdue Online Writing Lab (OWL): https://owl.english.purdue.edu/owl/resource/747/05/
- Underneath each citation, write an annotation for the source. Each annotation must be at least 100 words, though it may be longer.
- In your annotation, please briefly summarize the source and provide a brief analysis of how the source relates to your topic.
- Please write in a formal academic style; avoid first person ("I") statements. Avoid excessive jargon, and do not use quotations from your sources.
- For help and an annotated bibliography example, consult this guide from the OWL: http://owl.english.purdue.edu/owl/resource/614/1/
- Please type up your annotated bibliography as a word processing document and either a) post it as a Google Doc to the course site or b) email it to your professors. Use a standard 12 point font with 1 inch margins. Annotations can be single-spaced.
- Some class time on November 9 will be spent drafting the Annotated Bibliography. Teams will present progress on their Team Research Assignments.
