

NEW YORK CITY COLLEGE OF TECHNOLOGY

37th Annual

Literary Arts Festival

JOIN US!

Thursday, April 19, 2018

Atrium Amphitheater

5:30 - 7:00pm

This year's festival will feature poet Sean M. Conrey, who teaches in the English and Textual Studies department at Syracuse University, and whose most recent book of poems, The Book of Trees, came out in November. City Tech's own Jane Mushabac will also be a featured reader. Her book His Hundred Years was the centerpiece of the International Ladino Day celebration in January of this year.

In addition, students who won awards from the Literary Arts Writing Contest will read from their work.
