Dear Sir/Madame,

I write in regard to Lauren Seaquist, a talented and determined registered nurse.

I had the pleasure of serving as Ms. Seaquist's professor during the spring 2019 semester in a medical/surgical senior-level course. I had the opportunity to observe her synthesis of nursing theory to practice and to evaluate her knowledge and critical thinking skills.

I am pleased to recommend Lauren Seaquist for a position as a registered nurse. She maintained a spirit of inquiry throughout the course and possessed exceptional critical thinking skills. She did a class presentation on asthma and received stellar evaluations from her peers. Furthermore, Ms. Seaquist received excellent evaluations from her clinical instructors for the clinical component of the course on a telemetry/certified stroke unit at Maimonides Medical Center. She displayed a great attitude, determination, and maturity in the midst of a very rigorous nursing program and graduated with the highest honor in the Department of Nursing: Valedictorian of the Spring 2019 Class.

I recommend Lauren Seaquist very highly for a position as registered nurse, without reservation and with confidence in her continued professional success.

Thank you for the opportunity to comment.

Sincerely,
